

Gary Caswell, Esq.

San Antonio – Monterrey – New York

Tel: +210-414-1645

gcaswell@nunezcaswell.com

caswell.gary@gmail.com

Gary Caswell is an attorney and foreign legal consultant for international family law matters. Since 1995, he has served on the U.S. Department of State Advisory Committee on Private International Law, and U.S., International Bar Association and U.S-Mexico Bar Association delegations at Special Commissions of the Hague Conference on Private International Law on Child Abduction, Child Protection, Child Support and other forms of Family Maintenance. He was a State Department advisor in U.S. bilateral child support negotiations (1995-2003), VP for International Reciprocity for the National Child Support Enforcement Association (1996-2004) and since 1996, has been recognized by the U.S. Federal Office of Child Support Enforcement as a National Resource Person. For his efforts in improving legal cooperation between Mexico and the United States, Mr. Caswell has received awards from the USMBA and from the Governors, Attorneys General and DIF of Tamaulipas, Coahuila and Nuevo Leon. Beginning June, 1993, he served 10 years in the Office of the Texas Attorney General as a Field Attorney, Chief of the Forms Committee, Chief of International Policy and Manager for International Coordination. A frequent author, lecturer and expert witness on international family law issues, Mr. Caswell is currently of Counsel to Nuñez, Arreola y Asociados and Co-Chair of the Family Law Committee for the USMBA. Mr. Caswell received his B.A. from Trinity University and J.D. from St. Mary's School of Law.